NATIONAL POLICIES

Visa policy of the Principality of Sancratosia

PREAMBLE

Although travel to Sancratosia remains complicated, it is believed that having a visa policy will facilitate travel in the future.

This visa policy aims to provide a proper guideline for the establishment of visa restrictions, exemptions and everything related to the entry of people in the Sancratosian territory.

Sancratosia recognizes that the imposition of visa restrictions is not driven by security concerns or to curb illegal immigration, but rather to provide some foresight on the entry of foreigners in the territory of the Principality.

ENTRY AND DURATION PERIOD

Sancratosia offers multiple-entry visitation visas that have a duration of 3, 5 or 7 days. The visa may be extended after request to the Ministry of Territory at least 1 day before the expiration of the visa.

Having a visitation visa does not guarantee entry in the Principality. The border crossing authorities make the final determination to allow entry, and may cancel a visa at the border.

Entry in Sancratosia is also impossible without entry in Canada. As such, requirements for entry in Canada have to be considered by foreigners.

VISA REFUSAL

Foreigners may be refused a visa if they do not meet the requirements for admission or entry:

Having committed fraud, deception, or misrepresentation in their current application as well as in a previous application;

Having a criminal record, having criminal charges pending;

Being considered a threat to national security;

Having previous visa violations, even if said violations did not happen in the Principality;

Failing to demonstrate intent to return to their home country;

Failing to provide sufficient documents to prove eligibility for the visa.

These requirements may be used to refuse entry to foreigners who do not need a visa.

VISA EXEMPTIONS

Holders of valid travel documents issued by certain nations are able to visit Sancratosia without obtaining a visa for a period of up to 7 days.

Visa exemptions are granted to macronations based on their alignment with Sancratosian values, their visa free access to Canada, their Henley Passport Index.

Visa exemptions are granted to micronations based on the Foreign policy of the Principality of Sancratosia.
