SOVEREIGN HOUSE

Definition of the ceremonial territorial claim

*Our Princely Palace in Sancratosia
1 December 2023*

Many years ago, our family settled in the beautiful Beauharnois County, now the Beauharnois-Salaberry region in the province of Quebec. Many generations have passed and even if the family moved it always remained in the region until today.

Although, we don't personally reside in the region, we have family there and Our roots are still firmly there. If our Principality were to gain recognition from the international community and be offered any territory in the world to achieve our goals, We would not hesitate and choose this region to be the expression of our sovereignty.

Of course, this territory is inhabited and has been for many years. By defining this ceremonial territorial claim, we are not trying to erase the history nor claim it as ours. We believe in the coexistence of both territories in their alternative time-lines. We believe that this region will serve as a good basis and a good inspiration to establish our own folklore and cement the one we have been forging in the last two years.

This ceremonial territorial claim now gives an opportunity for Sancratosians and everyone else to visit Sancratosia albeit in mind.

Sinsera,

STATE OF THE PRINCIPALITY

2023 State of the Principality

*Our Princely Palace in Sancratosia
30 November 2023*

Dear people of Sancratosia,

As Sancratosia completes its second year of existence, this State of the Principality exercise will give us insights on what needs to be continued and what needs to be changed.

Once again, the Principality has made its impact on the world stage, especially by strengthening its ties with francophone nations. Notably, the Principality joined the Laurentian Micronational Cooperative Union and the Organisation de la MicroFrancophonie, two organisations which put forward the French language and reunite French-speaking nations.

The personal contribution of the Sovereign Princess was also extended in intermicronational organisations.

Sancratosia was also among the nations present at MicroCon 2023 organised by Ladonia in Joliet, Illinois. At this edition, the Principality was announced as the co-host of the upcoming 2025 edition of MicroCon, a collaborative project alongside the Aerican Empire and the Newgraviate of Saint-Castin. Sancratosia will thus have busy years ahead preparing the important event.

The engagement of our citizens has unfortunately not been up to our expectations. We have had to say farewell to one of our Ministers and candidacies are sparse. However, the return to activity of our Minister of State should help achieve the activity that we have foreseen when the Principality was founded.

The Principality remains on the right track but seems to never be so far from collapse.
